Prices are regular single-occupancy rates as of late 2016; better deals may be available, and most hotels allow multiple occupancy for a similar price. Add 13% city tax to quoted rates above except for the Faculty Club. Parking usually costs extra. For more options in Berkeley in all price ranges, see: <http://visitberkeley.com/where-to-stay> . Many local, reasonably priced rooms are available through Airbnb, at www.airbnb.com .

Transportation: The two nearest airports are San Francisco (SFO) and Oakland (OAK). If you can handle your luggage, consider taking Bay Area Rapid Transit (BART, <http://www.bart.gov/guide/airport>) to the Downtown Berkeley station from either airport. BART takes about an hour from either airport. It costs $9.55 from SFO, and $8.50 from OAK. From the Downtown Berkeley station, it is a 0.9 mile walk (about ten blocks) to the centrally located Hotel Durant or the Bancroft Hotel, gently uphill. If you can catch a taxi from the station (you may have to call), it should cost $8 to $16. A shared airport shuttle directly to your Berkeley hotel involves less walking but takes longer. A shuttle such as <http://www.bayporter.com/> or <http://www.supershuttle.com> costs $35 to $40 plus a 15% tip from SFO, or around $30 plus tip from OAK. A cab from SFO to your hotel takes from 40 minutes to over an hour and costs $80 to $100, depending on traffic, including a 15% tip; from OAK it should take 30 to 45 minutes and cost about $50 to $75. Rideshare services such as Uber are a bit cheaper. Return travel is similar.

Parking: Parking near the central campus may be scarce on Friday. On Saturday, many central University parking lots probably will be available to the public. Parking information is available at: <http://pt.berkeley.edu/park/visitor> , <http://www.ci.berkeley.ca.us/ContentDisplay.aspx?id=8260> , and <http://www.instituteofandeanstudies.org/locations.html> . The public parking lots closest to Kroeber Hall are privately owned and fill up early in the day. They are:

- The Bancroft Hotel Parking Lot, 2680 Bancroft Way, just west of the Bancroft hotel
- Douglas Parking, 2304 Bowditch, just off Bancroft Way
- Bancroft Center Parking, 2558 Bancroft Way
- Telegraph Channing Garage, 2450 Durant Avenue, ½ block west of Telegraph Avenue

Daily rates at these lots range from $15 to $24. Rates are subject to change. Watch for signboard notices of temporary lot restrictions for special events. Fines can be high. Allow plenty of time to find parking.

Alternatives to parking: Consider coming to campus by public transportation. See <http://511.org> to plan trips on any public transportation; BART <http://www.bart.gov> (Bay Area Rapid Transit), and AC Transit buses <http://www.actransit.org> . Taxis, Uber, and similar services are also good options.

Museum: The Phoebe Apperson Hearst Museum of Anthropology, <http://hearstmuseum.berkeley.edu>, located in Kroeber Hall, University of California, Berkeley, is renowned for its Andean archaeological collections among many other important holdings. Researchers may be able to access portions of the collections for study on weekdays by advance arrangement. Details will be available on the museum and Institute websites.

Information: Information about accommodations, parking, and other details are available at the Institute's website at <http://www.instituteofandeanstudies.org/meetings.html> .
